

Women's Centre Coordinator

The ASU is a not-for-profit organization that provides services, events, societies and advocacy work, along with much more, for the students of Acadia University. The ASU is an organization led by students, for students. It consists of over 100 employees and many more volunteers. The Acadia Students' Union story has been shaped and crafted since 1967 by you, the students. That's why we work every single day to support you in creating your story.

The Acadia Women's Centre is a place where women (and men) can come and build new friendships as well as learn more about many different women's issues from other Acadia students, many of whom share the same concerns and passion for positive change. The Women's Centre brings together women, men, trans and intersex people of both the Acadia and Wolfville communities to support women and women's issues. The Women's Centre is run under the principles of support, inclusion, and respect of differences, which aims to raise awareness and provide event programming on the Acadia campus. Past initiatives of the Women's Centre have included: pink ribbon campaign, healthy eating cookbooks, international performance artists, an all-female coffee house, a Montreal Massacre candlelight vigil, Sex Toy Bingo. The Centre is a positive space where women can come for support, guidance, or a friendly face.
